

KULTURA i SPOŁECZEŃSTWO

KWARTALNIK

TOM LVIII
NR 3

LIPIEC-WRZESIEŃ 2014
WARSZAWA

CONTENTS

Piotr Filipkowski, Once Again—Slightly Differently—on the Most Recent Polish Research on (Collective) Memory	3
Artur Lipiński, Collective Memory in Political Science—Field of Research	29
Kaja Kaźmierska, Biography Recounted, Experienced, and Reconstructed from the Perspective of War Experiences	61
Bronisław Gołębiowski, The Biographical Interview and the Written Autobiography: Similarities and Differences and the Value for Social Research	81
Ewa Siellawa-Kolbowska, Wojciech Połec, On Poles’ Fears in Regards to Russia: Memory of the Past as a Motive for Present Attitudes	89
Zuzanna Bogumił, Memory of the Second World War in Russian Regions: The Example of Regional Museums in the Komi Republic	111
Ewa Nowicka, The Great Patriotic War on the Onon: Heroes of the Agin-Buryat Okrug in Museums and Monuments	131
Małgorzata Głowacka-Grajper, Heroic Work to the Rear—Memory of the Great Patriotic War of 1941–1945 in the Ust-Orda Buryat Okrug	149
Anna Wylegała, Liberation or ‘Liberation’: The Biographical and Social Aspects of Memory of the Red Army’s March through Poland	169
Zofia Hołubowska, The Gender of Memory: Women’s Stories of Pre-War Sub-Carpathia, the War, and the Ukrainian Insurgent Army	185
Joanna Szymoniczek, The Garrison Cemetery in Gdańsk as a Record of the City’s History	199
*
Tomasz Stryjek, France—Germany—Poland/Germany—... Polish Memory Studies and the Challenge of Producing histoire au second degré of Eastern Europe	211
Magdalena Nowicka, The Dynamics of Public Memory: The Debate over Jan Tomasz Gross’s Books, in Comparison with Selected Debates on Collective Memory	237
Małgorzata Budyta-Budzyńska, Unavoidable, Imposed Social Change or a Dream Revolution? On the Margins of Andrzej Leder’s Book The Dream Revolution: Exercises in Historical Logic	259
*
Books Review and Discussions	273